making education accessible

A New Leaf's Education Services works to come up with solutions to make education accessible for children, youth and adults.

Through early childhood education programming, after-school programs for children and youth, and adult educational opportunities, we aim to help those seeking to further their education. See the comprehensive areas of service that A New Leaf provides below:

early childhood education

Serving children 6 weeks to 5 years of age, early childhood education programming focuses on each child's unique characteristics, developmental needs, and interests to support their growth and development during the most important years in a child's development.

after school programs

Many children across the Valley experience behavioral challenges that disrupt their lives at home, in school, and in the community. Through multiple after-school programs, A New Leaf offers children and youth a chance to learn healthy behaviors and catch up in school.

adult educational opportunities

A New Leaf believes that education is the key out of homelessness and poverty. Through a variety of programs, we help adults achieve their educational goals, providing them with the professional and technical skills they need to move up in the workplace.
