Mesa, AZ

life-changing shelter

A New Leaf's East Valley Men's Center (EVMC) is a safe haven for men facing homelessness as they re-integrate into the community.

When men arrive at the facility, they are provided with a bed and storage area for their personal possessions that they are able to keep for the entire duration of their stay.

Once the men have settled, dedicated staff members work with residents to build a personalized housing stability plan to foster physical health, mental health, financial independence, and social responsibility. An onsite workforce also helps the residents build a resume, find references, and secure job interviews.

EVMC accepts homeless men 18 years of age and older, providing up to 120 days in emergency shelter, during which time resident's work with case managers to find permanent housing options. Residents are required to pursue employment and to save a majority of their income.

Services provided include: case management, employment assistance, counseling and behavioral health referrals, substance abuse support group referrals, transportation assistance, financial literacy, preventive health and dental care, veteran resources, employment assistance, and long-term housing solutions.

Please note that children under 18 years of age are not allowed on site.
