life-changing housing solutions

A New Leaf's La Mesita Apartments are a long-term housing solution community providing individuals and families with a consistent network of support. With 110 apartments ranging from modest studios to cozy four-bedroom homes suitable for a family, La Mesita Apartments offers a safe place for parents, children and individuals to call home.

La Mesita also offers incredible access to community resources, on-site case management, workforce assistance, emergency basic needs items, and monthly basic life skills classes are offered free of charge. These resources, and other support services, help households find stability and move forward.

Some housing units serve households at or below the 60% median income. Some units serve households at or below the 30% median income. Units are available to assist those transitioning from homelessness, with preference given for veterans.

La Mesita is a true community, giving parents, children, and individuals a consistent, local support network to rely on. By providing a stable home and a comprehensive foundation of support, A New Leaf helps families flourish.
